AEA Names Castleberry President

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Newport School Superintendent G. F. Castleberry has been nominated for a one-year term as president of the Arkansas Education Association.

Castleberry, vice president of the association, was the only nominee to succeed Dr. Hugh L. Mills of Hot Springs.

The AEA Tuesday announced candidates selected by local education associations. The election will take place at district meetings in April, with the new officers to take office in May.

W. B. Gibson, superintendent of Conway schools, was nominated as vice president and president-elect. It is the first time the AEA has designated the number two officer as president-elect.

Mrs. Lottie McCracken, associated professor of education at Arkansas Tech, was nominated for re-election as recording secretary.

Gibson, nominated as director-at-large, was J. D. Moore, director of student teaching at Arkansas A&M; T. Raymond Sage of Cotton Plant; J. A. Trice, Pine Bluff superintendent; O. E. Roberts, Sebastian School Superintendent; A. E. Caldwell, Strong superintendent, and Paul Hawkins, Magazine superintendent.

State Must Change Laws on Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louisiana and several other states — including Arkansas — are on notice they will have to change their programs to aid needy dependent children after next July or else forfeit federal funds.

Arthur S. Flemming, retiring Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said a change in federal regulations governing aid to dependent children will require various states to make their programs conform.

Flemming's announcement was made simultaneously Tuesday by one by Social Security Commissioner William L. Mitchell that federal grants of $22 million a year to Louisiana should not be cut off because the state's program now meets existing federal standards.

Mitchell had conducted hearings last fall on whether the Louisiana program complied with federal regulations.

Louisiana's program was challenged by the Social Security agency after a new state law resulted in terminating aid to mothers of about 23,500 needy children, most of them Negroes.

The law set up a "suitable home" requirement to determine eligibility for aid to dependent children. Among other things it ended aid to mothers bearing an illegitimate child.

Flemming said the new federal regulations are aimed at the "suitable home" requirement, which Arkansas and some other states also have.

Faubus Men in Control of Highway

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Returning to the state Highway Commission won't be a homecoming for Truman Baker of Searcy.

The commission has been reorganized and its membership cut from 12 to 5 since Baker last served in 1949-53. And in the intervening eight years, the man who was highway director for the old commission — Orval E. Faubus — became the man who as governor named Baker to a 10-year term on the road agency Tuesday.

Baker's appointment lacks Senate approval, but this is expected to be a formality.

The 63-year-old Baker, a construction worker turned automobile dealer, has held a high state appointive office all except four years since the early 1940s when former Gov. Homer M. Adkins named him to the state Welfare Board.

His political career brought him into the favor of four governors — Adkins; Ben Laney, who kept him on the Welfare Board; Sid McMath, who named him to his first term on the Highway Commission; and Faubus, who first appointed him to the Game and Fish Commission in 1957. Baker will have to give up the Game and Fish job to join the Highway Commission.

The commission on which Baker served previously was involved in the Highway Audit Commission investigation of 1951-52. The revised commission, created by the 1951 Legislature, conducted a sweeping probe of Highway Department affairs and said in its official finding that "waste, extravagance and dishonesty" characterized many department dealings.

Baker was questioned about department purchasing practices and there was testimony that he had solicited campaign funds for McMath, but the Audit Commission report said no such thing.

Action on Tuesday in Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The legislative battle over university status for Arkansas State College at Jonesboro may soon be renewed.

Among the 30 Senate bills and 73 House measures introduced Tuesday were bills to permit state-supported colleges to attain university status by fulfilling certain requirements.

A bitter fight erupted in the 1959 Legislature when a bill was introduced to change the name of Arkansas State College to Arkansas State University. It got by the House, but met defeat in the Senate.

The new measures — introduced by Sen. Douglas Bradley of Jonesboro and Craighead Reps. Norman Wimpy and John States — were referred to committees without discussion.

"We have no desire to recreate the furor of the 1959 session," Bradley said in a prepared statement. "This legislation will set up achievement standards for all state colleges and, in addition and most important, it will remove the prestige disadvantage of the graduates of our state institutions when competing for employment with the graduates of similar institutions of neighboring states."

Among other things necessary to achieve university status would be an enrollment of 2,000 "full time equivalent Arkansas resident" students.

Bradley said Arkansas State now has about 1,800 such students.

Both Houses also received bills authorizing the state to sell any local industrial development corporation bonds it now holds. The measures would also repeal a never used 1957 provision authorizing the state to invest in the privately-financed First Arkansas Development Corporation.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus said in his inaugural address that such legislation would be proposed.

The Senate also got two other proposals which Faubus had said would be introduced.

One would permit counties and cities to build and operate nursing homes.

The other is a proposed constitutional amendment which would forbid any student of being deprived of a public education because of a refusal to attend an integrated school.

In the House, still another Faubus proposal came up. Clark County Rep. J. Hugh Lookadoo introduced bills to amend state racing laws to state clearly that before a dog or horse race track can be established in a county, voters in that county must approve the action. University Status for State Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An Arkansas State University bill appeared in the state legislature today.

The measure filed in the house by Craighead Reps. Norman Wimpy and John States does not specifically mention Arkansas State College at Jonesboro, but it declares that any state college meeting certain specifications may change its name from college to university.

The specifications are drawn so that Arkansas State College is the only school in the state which can meet them.

A bill which would have granted university status to Arkansas State was one of the most controversial measures in the 1959 legislature. The Senate passed the bill, but it was beaten in the House after a spirited fight.

One of the qualifications is that the institution desire to change its name. Arkansas State is the only college in Arkansas which has expressed such a desire.

The House resumed business today after having been in recess, for all practical purposes, since last Thursday. The House met less than 20 minutes Monday and then adjourned so members could attend the funeral of Secretary of State C. G. (Crip) Hall.

Other bills filed with the House clerk before the body convened today included measures to:

Create a consolidated board to administer finances of the University of Arkansas and seven state-supported colleges.

Require the University and state colleges to charge a non-resident tuition fee of $100 per student.

Create a continuing study committee to survey the state highway system and to make biennial reports to the legislature.

Bill to Change Rules Passes Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats at a harmonious caucus today approved an increase in Rules Committee membership to break a coalition's grip on that committee.

They shouted approval of a resolution by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas to increase the membership to 15 from 12, with 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans.

There was no roll-call vote.

Rules Chairman Howard W. Smith of Virginia told the caucus he would call a committee meeting to act on the increase as soon as the committee is formally created, probably next week.

It was one of the briefest caucuses in party history, lasting only about 15 minutes.

The action, subject to House approval probably next week, represented an initial victory for Rayburn in his drive to crack the Rules Committee control held in the past by a coalition of four Republicans and two Southern Democrats.

Northern Democrats had predicted in advance that the caucus would approve the change.

They were less confident about how the plan will fare on the House floor, where Republicans and Southern Democrats have combined in the past to have a dominant voice in the House.

The final outcome could have a great bearing on the success of President-elect John F. Kennedy's legislative program.

Don't Divert Tax, Commission Pleads

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission has asked legislators not to divert any more highway tax revenue to other purposes.

In its 24th biennial report to the legislature Tuesday, the Commission noted that just over half of all highway user revenues are available to finance road and street construction and maintenance.

The report said the department's job "is compounded by the problem of additions to the system, which are sometimes non-functional or were selected without proper study, and also by lack of statutory authority to drop from the system obsolete and other non-functional mileage."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus this year has backed up the commission's plea against road fund diversions. He said he would oppose any move to cut into highway funds.

Mays Measure Amended for Conway County

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House today approved a Conway County amendment to the Mays congressional redistricting bill, but rejected a move to shift Jefferson and Lincoln counties.

An amendment moving Conway County from the proposed 3rd District to the 2nd District was adopted with little debate on a routine 58-33 vote.

The proposal to move Jefferson and Lincoln counties from the proposed 1st District to the 4th touched off a spirited debate which lasted more than an hour and a half before the amendment was defeated 52-37.

Twelve representatives took the floor to speak for or against the bill.

Jefferson County's three representatives and G. D. Smith Jr. of Lincoln County carried the ball for the proposed amendment, aided by Virgil Butler of Independence County and L. A. Autry of Mississippi County.

Cleveland County Rep. Raymond Mays, author of the measure, led the opposition to the amendment, which included Union County's two representatives — Chadd Durrett and James Pomeroy.

The Jefferson - Lincoln County amendment had been defeated Tuesday night in the House Reapportionment Committee. The Committee had approved the Conway County shift.

The Senate has passed the Mays plan, without the Conway County change.

Antry called the Mays plan, which places Jefferson and Lincoln counties in a district which runs along the Mississippi River to the Missouri line, a "gerrymander." Butler accused proponents of the plan of "trying to ram it down our throats."

"If this plan is adopted, it will be the first trophy of dictatorship from this session," Butler said.

Pomeroy suggested that opponents of the Mays plan, instead of trying to amend that bill, should introduce a bill of their own. Several alternate plans have been introduced but none has been seriously discussed.

The fact that the bill was amended put off a vote on the bill proper at least until Thursday, because the amendment must be made a part of the bill before the measure can be voted on.

Highway Bids to Be Opened

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bids will be opened Feb. 8 by the Arkansas Highway Department on road and bridge projects totaling an estimated $800,000.

Also to be received will be bids on construction of a new Little Rock district headquarters office to replace the present district office in North Little Rock.

No interstate work is included in the four road and bridge projects for which bids will be received.

SW Poultry Festival Set June 2

The Annual Southwest Arkansas Poultry Festival will be held in Hope on Friday, June 2, 1961, according to James Morrow, chairman of the Festival Committee, who was recently appointed to this position by C. W. Bridgers, C of C president.

Mr. Morrow and B. N. Hall, Chamber Manager, attended a meeting of the Arkansas Poultry Federation Executive Committee on Saturday, Jan. 14, at which time the dates for the four district festivals were set.

A meeting has been called for Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 25 in the Chamber office to formulate local plans and complete the committee set up. Local clubs and organizations will be contacted and they are urged to have representation at this meeting.

"The Executive Committee of the Arkansas Poultry Federation was most complimentary to Hope for its outstanding District Festival job in 1960 and they are expecting us to come through again in 1961," Mr. Morrow said.

Well Traveled Alligator

THERE IS QUITE A STORY ABOUT THIS ALLIGATOR, stretched out above by Mr. and Mrs. Cutchall of the Cutchall Fish Market on Third Street. Seems the Gator was taken from the Fish Market by a couple of local Ouachita students. They hoped to create a little excitement at the College and they did. Gator wandered off from his hiding place at the College and was discovered by townsfolk. A story appeared in the state papers telling about how unusual it was to find one in Arkadelphia, although the Ouachita River runs almost through the town. Finally the students had to solicit help from Police to get the gator back to the local fish market. Officers obliged and the boys returned it to the local establishment.

Millwood to Be Subject of CC Dinner

The immense possibilities of the proposed Millwood Dam — A $56,000,000 project — will be discussed here at the annual C of C Banquet on Jan. 26 at the Barlow Hotel.

The chief planning engineer, Myron DeGeer, U.S. Corps of Engineers, of Tulsa, will be the principal speaker and the topic of his address is "Millwood Dam."

The first $500,000 construction appropriation will be spent between now and July 1 with the building of access roads and construction of engineers quarters slated to begin in March or early April.

Chamber of Commerce officials have announced various committee chairmen who are completing details for the annual event beginning at 7 p. m. Only 250 seats are available and the price is $2.50 per ticket — first come, first served basis.

Homer Beyerley has been named general chairman and his aides are Bill Wray, ticket chairman; A. L. Page, Ralph Montgomery and Dr. Lynn Harris, menu committee; T. C. Crawford, Harold Collier, A. J. Rhodes and Garden Club members are in charge of table arrangements.

Ray Lawrence and Orrie Byers, greeters; Haskell Jones, MC; Dr. Harold Brants, program chairman and Leonard Ellis, publicity.

Embezzler Has Town Confused

SHELDON, Iowa (AP) — The economy of this small town in northwest Iowa was in a state of confusion today as the result of a $2-million embezzlement from the Sheldon National Bank.

There were payrolls to be met, outstanding checks that seemed sure to encounter trouble. Citizens without funds and local business records in financial disarray.

In jail, beyond the reach of persons seeking public answers to the questions of how and why it all happened, was Burnice Geiger, 33, daughter of the bank president.

The U.S. district attorney's office in Sioux City said Mrs. Geiger — a director and assistant cashier of the bank — admitted the embezzlement. A prominent citizen, she was known for her charitable works.

Her father, W.P. Iverson, 83, president of the bank for 45 years, could only say: "I'm all choked up."

The bank was closed for liquidation by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. after a routine audit by federal bank examiners turned up the shortage Monday night.

Officials of the FDIC were checking the records of deposits which were insured up to $10,000 each. The bank's last statement former state Sens. Jack V. Clark of Texarkana, chief sponsor of the change.

Rep. Ben Bynum of Chicot County says the new plan destroyed interest in the second primary. He has prepared a bill to return the state to the pre-1960 system.

Arkansas' first double primary law was adopted in 1933. Under it, all candidates ran at the first primary, as they did last year under the 1959 act.

The 1933 law was used only in 1934, then the 1935 legislature repealed it and put the state back under a single primary plan.

Under this, a candidate was required to get only a plurality of votes rather than a majority.

Arkansas held single primaries in 1936 and 1938, but in 1939 a new double primary law was passed. This one specified that candidates in two-man races wouldn't run until the second primary.

A 1943 law modified this act, but did not change the provision for two-candidate races to be settled in the second primary.

The state operated under this 1943 law until it was amended by the 1959 legislature. The state would return to the earlier act's provisions if Bynum's proposal becomes law.

Exposure Fatal to Two Negroes

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Two Negroes were found dead in separate instances near here Monday. Coroner Jim Stovall said both apparently died of exposure.

The body of Tony Walker, about 70, was found near the north city limits. Stovall estimated he had been dead 12 hours.

Found near a railroad track at Frenchman's Bayou, 32 miles south of here, was the body of Laura Arthur, 65. Stovall estimated she had died early Sunday.

Stovall said there were no indications of violence in connection with either death.

Court interpreted an earlier law to mean a majority of voters casting ballots in the election.

Finances of state institutions of higher education would be handled by a consolidated board under bills introduced by Jackson Rep. Lonnie Eltheridge and Little River Rep. Marion Crank.

Also introduced in the House were bills to:

Outlaw pinball machines, require the state Highway Department to furnish engineering help to county road departments, require automobile owners to show evidence of financial liability before they buy car licenses, revoke the hunting license of hunters who accidentally wounds another hunter and provide for payment to widows of legislators the salaries they would have received if they lived out their terms.

The House Reapportionment Committee, following a public hearing Tuesday night, formally recommended the "Mays plan" for congressional redistricting after approving a shift of Conway County from one proposed new district to another.

The committee turned down requests for similar shifts by Arkansas, Jefferson and Lincoln counties. They wanted to be included in a district composed of south and southeast Arkansas counties instead of being in a proposed east Arkansas district.

Conway County would be included in a proposed district embracing central Arkansas counties and including the Little Rock area.

Cleveland Rep. Raymond Mays sponsored the measure in the House. The Senate has passed a similar bill.

The present Fifth and Sixth Districts would be eliminated in the reshuffling brought on by a loss of population in the state.

The House approved a previously passed Senate bill to allow a longer horse racing season at Hot Springs' Oaklawn Park.

One 43-day meeting or two 31-day meets would be permitted each year.

Supporters said the governor is expected to sign the measure.

Among bills introduced in the Senate were measures to:

Assure that no county would lose any highway (turnback funds solely because of a population decrease as reflected by the 1960 census and authorize the Arkansas National Guard and the state Livestock Sanitary Board to sell real estate no longer needed and use the proceeds for new construction.

A House bill to finance a proposed $52 million construction bond issue and finance it with a tax on soft drinks failed to get a routine second reading.

Crittenden Rep. Cecil Nance said he objected to the second reading because he is "against any more taxes." Nance said he intended to oppose the measure.

Columbia Rep. Harry B. Colay, who authorized the measure, declined to speculate on the meaning of the resounding voice vote which held up the second reading.

"It might mean opposition to the bill and it might mean the members just want more time to study the measure," Colay said.

Money from the bond issue would be used for construction at the University of Arkansas, the seven state-supported colleges, the State Hospital and the Arkansas Children's Hospital at Conway.

Legislators attending a Little Rock dinner Tuesday night were told that the soft drink industry would not be burdened by the one cent per bottle tax to finance the issue.

It is the only sure means of providing adequate facilities for the institutions, Leon Catlett, university board member, told the lawmakers.

Ray Trammel of the university law school said a similar tax program in South Carolina and West Virginia has proved satisfactory to both the soft drink industry and consumers.

Faubus Men

sion made no charges of wrongdoing on his part in its report.

The commission's finding, however, led to adoption in the 1952 general election of the Mack - Blackwell constitutional amendment under which the Highway Commission was reorganized with five members serving 10-year staggered terms.

The amendment was designed to prevent any one governor from appointing a majority of the commission members, but Faubus, by virtue of winning four terms in office, now has named four of the present members. He has made six appointments in all, but two of these were replacements for people he already had appointed.

The only member not appointed by Faubus is Glenn Wallace of Nashville, named by former Gov. Francis Cherry. Cherry, incidentally, is the only recent governor who did not find a job for Baker.

A native of Franklin County, Baker started his business career in 1921 with a nine-year hitch in the construction business. He entered the cash register business in 1930 but left that during the depression to work on Boulder Dam and at the Fort Rooks Veterans Administration Hospital. In 1939 he left a job as weights and standards inspector of the City of North Little Rock to buy the Searcy Chevrolet agency, which he still operates.

Baker, like most other members of the McMath administration, was a political limbo for the two years of Cherry's tenure, but he joined other former McMath people in supporting Faubus in 1954. Since that time, he has become one of Faubus' closest friends. He was a key man in Faubus' fourth term campaign last summer, as he had been in the 1950 and 1958 campaigns.

Baker is active in the American Legion, Kiwanis, the Elks Club, the Methodist Church and the Razorback Club. He has been commander of Legion posts at North Little Rock and Searcy.

Body of Girl, 6, Found in a Field

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — The body of a 6-year-old girl with a heart condition, kidnapped from a farm labor camp last Thursday, was found today in a field, mains after the pregnant wife of a search party found the reformer mental patient, accused as the kidnaper, confessed that her husband had abducted the child. She told them where to look.

Sheriff's Capt. Al Loustalot said the body was in open rangeland about half a mile north of Highway 466 and about 60 miles northwest of Bakersfield.

Chief Criminal Deputy Loren Fote said Mrs. Dixie Elaine Lindsey, 23, told deputies Monday night that her husband, Richard, 30, took the tot and:

"He drove north several miles. He made me get out of the car and he drove off across a field with the girl. When he came back later, the little girl was gone and the whole front seat was covered with blood."

The Lindseys were arrested Sunday about 250 miles north of Bakersfield.

Rose Marie, a blue-eyed blonde, was stricken with a serious heart disorder shortly after birth and knowledge of this condition made the days of waiting especially trying for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Riddle.

Arkansas Woman Robbed of $2,500

CHICAGO (AP) — Cook County authorities say thieves probably decided to rob a Blytheville, Ark. woman after overhearing her chauffeur brag about his job.

The woman, Mrs. Violet Shinaut, 55, was robbed of $2,500 at gunpoint in a motel Monday by two bandits posing as linen pick-up men.

Sheriff's Deputy Fred Shields said the chauffeur, William Bady, 23, also of Blytheville admitted bragging about his job while visiting several Chicago taverns the night before. Shields said the holdup men apparently followed Bady when he returned to the motel.

A lie detector test absolved Bady of complicity, Shields said.

Mrs. Shinaut told authorities the money was part of a settlement stemming from an auto accident which left her crippled.

Belgium's Workers Return to Jobs

BRUSSELS (AP)—Much of Belgium's work force returned to their jobs today after 28 days of mass strikes. But a police patrol and demonstrators exchanged shots in Chene, near Liege, and two demonstrators were reported seriously wounded.

Police said a small group of strikers attacked a trolley being escorted by police.

Socialist trade unions called the strike in an effort to force the government to withdraw its austerity program of higher taxes and cuts in social security benefits.

Steals 2000 Girdles

ATLANTA (AP) — A thief who stole about 2,000 girdles from a suburban Chamblee plant is being sought by police.

The girdles, valued at about $50,000, were stolen from the Warner Bros. Co. during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Jackson Hicks

In Magnolia's College View Baptist Church illuminated by the glow of white tapers burning in Candelabra, Miss Ruth Edna Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Jones of Emmet, and Mr. Clovis Jackson Hicks, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Hicks of Cove, exchanged vows on Monday, December 26 at 5 p. m.

The Rev. Noel O'Steen officiated the double ring rites before a background of emerald palms, baskets of white gladioli and ferns, and candelabra. Miss Linda Evans of Hope, pianist, furnished the wedding music and accompanied Miss Mary Fitzgerald of Magnolia, soloist, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown fashioned of white slipper satin and tulle, and styled with a scalloped neckline, wrist length sleeves, and a bouffant skirt. Her finger-tip veil of illusion drifted with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible to which was attached her cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Shirley Joslin of Haynesville, La., was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a dress of bi-geige brocade taffeta with matching semi-veil and mitts. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations, and wore the bride's gift of jewelry, a pearl necklace. Mrs. Lillian Thompson of Saratoga, Texas, and Miss Katie Sue Jones of Emmet, served their sister as bridesmaids. They wore dresses of blue chiffon over peach de soie with matching semi-veils and mitts, and carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations, and wore the bride's gift of miniature gold crosses.

Miss Margaret Jones, sister of the bride, and Miss Gail Alford were candle lighters. They wore dresses of bi-geige chiffon over peach de soie with matching semi-veils. Their wrist corsages were of pink carnations and wore miniature gold hearts, gifts of the bride. Mr. Melvin Hicks of Dallas, Texas was his brother's best man. Groomsmen ushers were Eric Deaton and Claude Hicks of Magnolia.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Jones chose a bi-geige lace dress with brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a blue dress with black accessories and both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Presiding at the guestbook was Miss Raye Childers of Camden. After a short wedding trip to the Ozarks, the couple are at home in Bradley, Ark.

DOROTHY DIX

The Consequences of Ignorance

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I am a young fool of 13. My mother and father always preached to me never to go in boys' cars. Well, I did. All I got for telling the truth was a beating with strap marks over my hands and face. I can't go out for a year, wear any more lipstick, nor set my hair. It must be worn plain. Worst of all, my father said he would never trust me again.

I knew I did very wrong but I never could confide in Mother because she would yell, "Never bring up the subject of boys again." I am mature for my age and considered pretty, but I don't care.

But how are you supposed to be where boys are, like in school, and not speak to them or go out with them when they ask you? I want to be liked. As a result I'm in serious trouble.

Helen, you are the only one I can turn to. I felt like leaving home till I remembered all the girls I know you have helped. How can I ever get my mother and father to believe I know I did wrong and to forgive and forget? And how can I ever be trusted again by them? Please print this as a warning to all girls my age. —KAY

Kay dear: This whole sorry situation stems from ignorance. If your parents had the slightest comprehension of the adolescent period into which you are now entering, they would know that neither beatings, reprimand nor sackcloth and ashes are answers. In turn, if you had been told more about sex, you would recognize this sudden interest in boys for what it is — first stirrings of the biological urge.

Ask your minister or doctor to talk to your parents. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflets on "Sex Education for Teen-agers" and "What Age for Dating." Read and pass along to your father and mother. Tell them that the past exists only as long as they let it. Every day is a new day.

In the same mail with Kay's letter I received the following and use it in the hope of cheering her up.

Dear Helen:

I am 17 and will graduate from a private school in June. I'm not the most attractive girl on the street but my date book is packed each weekend. I did not date until three months after my 16th birthday. My parents were strict but I'm better off for it. The kids in the class went to parties in their freshmen, sophomore and junior years. I did not because I could not. Do you think my life is drab? Heck no! I'm one of the happiest girls in the class with friends in many fields. Please print this if you can. —R. P.

Dear Helen:

My 16-year-old daughter has been going steady five months. She was a good student until then. This boy won't give her a chance to do her homework. He lives three blocks from us and we can't get him to go home — even for dinner. He has no job, is a smart Alec and had the nerve to ask my girl to marry him!

They call me cruel because I only allow her to go out weekends and set a 10:30 curfew. This all has caused much unhappiness. Please tell me what to do. — DESPERATE MOTHER

Dear Desperate Mother: Propinquity is a factor here. Could you send your daughter away to school? It would be worth the investment, even if you have to cut corners elsewhere.

It is not practical, find some young boys who do measure up to your standards. Begin by making friends with their mothers. Invite them to your home. Explain the situation. Enlist their help.

One Man Per County to Be Heard

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The chairman of the House Reapportionment Commission said today that only one spokesman from each county would be heard when his group discusses the so-called Mays congressional redistricting bill at a public hearing tonight.

Crittenden Rep. C. B. Nance Jr. said he expected delegates from Jefferson, Arkansas, Lincoln and Conway counties would want to appear.

These four counties apparently are the only ones dissatisfied with the plan offered by Cleveland Rep. Raymond Mays.

Jefferson, Lincoln and Arkansas counties would be in the first District of Rep. E. C. Gallings under the Mays plan. They want in the proposed 4th District in which Reps. Oren Harris and W. P. Norrell will be the incumbent congressmen.

Mays has put Conway County in the 3rd district of Rep. J. W. Trimble. Conway County Rep. Clay Brazil says his people want in the proposed 2nd District in which Reps. Willard Mills and Dale Alford are the incumbents.

Cuba Bound by Curtain of Silence

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime maintained a curtain of silence today around military operations against rebels in central Cuba's mountains. But it announced execution of three more "terrorists" in Havana and openly purged opposition in labor unions.

The executions, which raised the unofficial total to 580 since Castro took power, were the first since the prime minister announced those responsible for recent bombings and sabotage would be dealt with most severely.

Shot early today in Havana's La Cabana fortress were Juan Mesa Lopez and Julio Llovera Suarez, accused of "counterrevolutionary and terrorist activities," and Babiano Emilio Diaz, charged with attempting to kill pro-Castro radio commentator Jose Pardo Laava last fall. Llovera Suarez also was accused of spying for the U.S. government.

They had been convicted less than 12 hours earlier. La Cabana was jammed with an undisclosed number of prisoners awaiting trial for anti-Castro activities.

On the heels of a warning to the Bus Drivers Union to close ranks behind Castro's revolution, the Labor Ministry dismissed 360 employees of the recently nationalized Cuban Electric Co. No official reason was given but the workers said they were fired for being unpatriotic and potentially dangerous to loyal workers.

The dismissed workers demonstrated briefly Monday before company headquarters. They are members of the Electrical Workers Union, hundreds of whose members marched on the presidential palace last December in protest against Communist attempts to take over the union. Union leaders were purged immediately. A wave of sabotage against electric lines followed.

Officials would give no reports on the progress of the offensive in the Escambray Mountains of Las Villas Province. Castro's office denied he was directing the military operation and termed absurd a report that as many as 30,000 government troops were trying to round up 4,000 rebels.

A "space telescope" now under construction in Sugar Grove, W. Va., will use more than two million pounds of aluminum.

Love."

Seeks House Speaker Job for 1963

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two members of the Arkansas House are actively seeking the speakership of the 1963 Legislature and petitions are being circulated on behalf of a third.

Little River County Rep. Marion Clark, who lost the job to John P. Bethell of Prairie County in the current session, said he has 51 pledges. This is a majority of the present House membership, but is not considered enough to guarantee election.

Chicago County Rep. Ben Bynum also is an announced candidate for the job. He declined to say how many pledges he has.

Friends of Rep. Joel Y. Ledbetter of Pulaski County are gathering pledges for him, but they admit privately that there is little chance he will get the job. Crank and Bethell waged a campaign for pledges during the 1959 session and the battle continued through last summer with each claiming enough for victory. Gov. Orval E. Faubus finally called the two men into his office and the speakership was decided by the loss of a coin.

Crank, 45, is starting his sixth term in the House. Bynum, 40, is beginning his eighth term. Ledbetter, 49, has served six previous terms.

Union Settles Wage Contract

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Local 8-434 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union has settled wage negotiations with American Oil Co., accepting a 14-cent across-the-board increase.
The agreement, which still is being signed by the company, is retroactive to Dec. 23, 1960. The contract involves 338 workers.

Chapter XXXIII

As the last panelman was called, Bart heard pounding hooves on the road from the L.J. From where he was, he was unable to see, and he did not want to move, but there were at least three horses, perhaps more.

Willis made a note in his ledger, and said, "Call the first witness."

There was a flurry as Hector broke through the ring and went forward.

Temple Houston said in a far-carrying voice: "The first witness is Hector Johnson."

Hector, white-faced and breathless was sworn.

Temple Houston, his tawny hair golden in the sun, started questioning him. Finally Houston swung and pointed a finger dramatically at Halvorson and Indian George. "Do you know these men?"

"By sight."

"Tell me when you last saw them."

Hector was studying his fingernails. "That was on Wednesday last week."

"Where?"

"In a ravine on the hackberry pasture at the L.J."

"How did you come to know they were there?"

"They had built a branding fire and —"

"Your honor," said Browning. "I object. A conclusion unsupported by the evidence."

"Sustained," said Willis.

Hector got his back up. "Nobody in his right mind would build a fire on a hot day in a place like that unless they were getting ready to burn some hides."

stood among them branded as a murderer. Some sort of shootout was inevitable. Under no possible set of circumstances could this first session of court end peacefully, for its very ending probably meant the rope for Murphy. Bart loosened his 44's. He could only speculate on what had happened at the Half Moon. Had Stella, at the last, tried to keep them from coming, knowing that her father might be in the line of fire? Only Hector Johnson knew the answers — unless there were other witnesses — and it came to Bart with a shock that he still did not know where Harding was.

Temple Houston lowered his voice. "I hope you will forgive me, Mr. Johnson, in the face of this great tragedy which understandably has upset you a great deal, but as you know, this is a vital case for the entire Panhandle. Do you feel like going on?"

Hector said, as if in great pain, "Go on."

"Tell us about the discovery of these two men in the ravine."

Willis took a deep breath and looked at his book. "That remark should be stricken from the record."

Temple Houston said, with innate dignity, "Yes, your honor. Counsel agrees."

But Hector had made a tremendous point. Stud Murphy

DePaul Team Bounced From Unbeaten List

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The home court advantage, important in basketball, has clipped DePaul's Blue Demons off the major undefeated list, leaving only Ohio State.

Notre Dame's Irish spilled DePaul's unbeaten string at 12 Tuesday night, 61-58.

John Tully was triggerman for the Irish, hitting two quick field goals as part of an 8-0 burst that shattered a 42-all tie with about 8 minutes remaining.

DePaul, ranked seventh in the new Associated Press poll, thus suffered the road-game pitfall that had struck Bradley, Louisville and Vanderbilt from the unbeaten ranks last week.

Ohio State's beat-'em Bucks won their last 17 games including 12 straight this year as they rumbled toward defense of their NCAA championship.

Cincinnati (12-3) stretched its winning streak to seven, 64-53 over Duquesne; Detroit won its 10th in 15 tries, 71-57 over Dayton; Auburn (8-2) whipped Florida State 74-67; Memphis State (12-1) routed Louisiana College 96-39; and Western Kentucky fanned its Ohio Valley Conference lead, 88-75 over Tennessee Tech in other major games.

Little Howie Carl hit 16 points for DePaul, but Notre Dame had little trouble with sophomore M. C. Thompson, who had scored 24 points when the Demons ended Louisville's 13-game streak last Saturday. Thompson scored only five points and hit just one field goal.

Virginia Military hit 33 of 38 free throw attempts for the difference in a 93-77 Southern Conference victory over George Washington. Neither will worry the league leaders. VMI has a 2-6 Conference mark and is 3-10 overall. G-W, now 2-5 in the league, lost its eighth in 11 games.

West Team Winner in Pro Game

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Oscar Robertson neatly summed up in four little words today the West's record-breaking victory over the East in the National Basketball Association all-star game.

"We beat 'em good," said Cincinnati's "Big O," voted the most valuable player in Tuesday night's dream game in the War Memorial Auditorium. The West, a 6-point underdog, won 153-131.

Robertson scored 23 points and had a record 14 assists. Bob Pettit and Clyde Lovellette, both of St. Louis, and Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, also starred for the winners.

All four pitched in during a furious assault that carried the Westerners to a 47-19 lead at the first-quarter mark. The closest the East came after that was 14 points, 103-117, midway in the fourth quarter.

The usual high-scoring Wilt Chamberlain and Bob Cousy were held far below their average. Philadelphia's Chamberlain had only 12 points. Cousy, the veteran Boston forward, had only four.

Hope Wins 2 Games From Gurdon

By Vince Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

Hope took two non-conference games from Gurdon there last night, both by 21 point margins. The Bobcats came from behind to take the Gurdon Seniors 64-33, and the Bobkittens used two high quarters in capturing the Juniors 38-17.

The Cats trailed 15-12 in the first period, but led 30-20 after having a big 18 point scoring quarter in the second. Both teams took 13 points in the third quarter, but Hope scored 21 in the final period to take their 9th win of the season 64-33.

Curtis Churchwell and Glen Calhoun were high for Hope again with 15 points each. Robinson had 14 and Arnett 12. Fry 4, Powell and Porterfield hit 2 each. Culp was high for Gurdon with 18.

After 14 games the Bobcats have scored 685 points to their opponents 604. Glen Calhoun has 134 points, Gene Robinson 131, Curtis Churchwell 101, Danny Hatfield 24, Larry Arnett 96, Eddie Fry 89, David Porterfield 11, Jeffery Powell 37, Larry Hooten 1, T-Bo Roberts 6, Earl Ray Murphy 23, Billy Compton 6 and others 19.

The Kittens enjoyed two major scoring quarters which totaled 33 of their 38 points and gave them their eighth victory. The Kittens led 15-4, 18-7, 36-16 and 38-17 after each quarter.

Dan Jones was high with 15 points, Burnett took 6, McDowell 5, McLarty 4, Reinhardt 3, Caldwell and Wassell 2 each and Sprague hit 1.

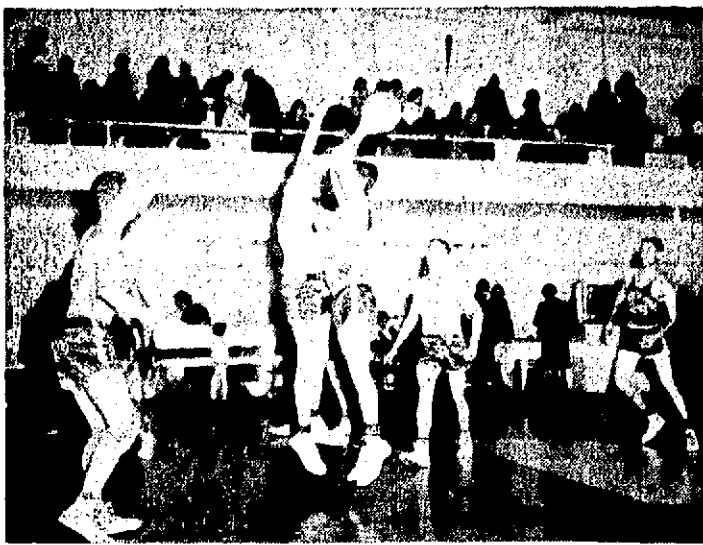

Tonight the "B" boys enter the Saratoga Tournament playing at 6:30.

Fire Sweeps Pier in S. Carolina

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — A spectacular fire, intensified by a strong breeze and two explosions, swept a pier at the naval base here Monday. The Navy reported six men missing and four injured.

The missing men reportedly were working near a building on the pier that was demolished. The two explosions leveled the building.

The fire occurred at a facility known as a degaussing station, where ships are demagnetized. This process is necessary to prevent them from setting off magnetic mines.

The Navy said it would investigate the cause of the blaze. No estimate of the damage was available.

Three of the missing men were Navy men, and three were civilians.

Two officers, 10 enlisted men and five civilians were assigned to work at the station.

Little Rock Base Personnel Slashed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — About 1,650 men will be transferred from the Little Rock Air Force Base when the 70th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing is inactivated in October of this year.

Brig. Gen. John S. Samuel, commander of the 825th Air Division, announced the move Monday but gave no reason.

About 1,200 men are scheduled to be assigned to the base to support a Titan missile complex, leaving the base with a net loss of 450 men.

The 70th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing has been assigned to Little Rock since Oct. 20, 1955.

Feelings Are Likely to Be Same

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—"The general and I feel like children just released from school," wrote the First Lady shortly before her husband stepped out of office to retire to their country home.

That was 164 years ago, and the President's wife was Martha Washington.

But you can almost hear Mamie Eisenhower saying it, as she and the general prepare to leave Washington for their 500-acre farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

It's the first home they've ever owned, and Mrs. Eisenhower probably is eager to trade the responsibilities that go with running the 107-room White House for the joys of puttingter around her own house. "I've been supremely happy as a housewife," she has said—and she wants to be one again.

She will be something more than that however, from a historic point of view. At 64 Mamie Eisenhower will be the youngest of four living former First Ladies, sharing the distinction with Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Harry Truman.

The oldest is Edith Bolling Bait Wilson, now 88, who still lives in Washington in the 26-room house her husband bought in 1921 when he left the White House. He died there three years later.

A large woman who likes somewhat elaborate clothes, Mrs. Wilson comes out of seclusion rarely these days except for ceremonial occasions. She plans to attend the inauguration Friday.

The next oldest former First Lady maintains a schedule that would exhaust a woman half her age. At 76, Eleanor Roosevelt is still a dynamo of activity.

She travels extensively, makes innumerable speeches, writes a daily newspaper column and a monthly magazine feature, lectures on international relations, appears on radio and television, answers a steady stream of mail with meticulous care and works hard for her favorite causes, particularly the American Association for the United Nations and the Democratic party.

She spends her summers mostly at the family home in Hyde Park, N.Y., and her winters in a New York apartment. Sometimes she makes disparaging remarks about her memory, but she never forgets a birthday or anniversary of her large family of children, grandchildren, great grandchildren.

Also family-minded is Bess Truman, now living quietly with the former president in their rambling home in Independence, Mo.

Low Scores in Crosby Meet Expected

By JACC STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Art Wall captured the 1959 Crosby Golf Tournament in near perfect weather and the same conditions could exist this week for the $50,000 event.

"You'll see some low scores if this weather keeps up," Wall said after a practice round over the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course. "The weather makes quite a difference here."

Although he didn't keep formal score, Wall said he was a few strokes under par for 18 holes.

Kon Venturi of San Francisco battled rain and blustering winds on his final 18 holes last year and won the 72-hole tournament with a score of 286. Wall won the year before with 279.

Art Doering, the veteran from Pittsburgh, paced qualifiers Tuesday who battled for the last 18 places in the field of 150 pros and 150 amateurs who start the tournament Thursday. Doering fired a 3-under-par 69 on the Pebble Beach course.

The pros pair with the amateurs for tournament play with two divisions—the pro-amateur and the pro individuals.

Other qualifiers Tuesday include Tommy Aaron, Gainesville, Ga.; Milton Marcus, St. Louis, and Bill Eznicki, North Redding, Mass., all 71; Fred Wampler, St. Louis, 72; Tom Talkington, Ypsilanti, Mich., and Houston LeClair, Birmingham, Ala., 73; Phil Wiechman, Grand Rapids, Mich., and Peter Mazur, Montauk, N.Y., 74. The 18th spot will be decided today in a sudden death playoff between 11 golfers who deadlocked at 75.

She runs the household, shops, plays bridge with her friends. Occasionally they come to New York to visit their daughter Margaret, her husband Clifford Daniel, and their two young sons.

Now 75, Mrs. Truman has avoided publicly perhaps more than any other First Lady in recent years. She once said that good health and a well developed sense of humor are the greatest assets for a president's wife.

Other First Ladies undoubtedly concur.

Both Saratoga Teams Ousted in Tournament

In the Saratoga tournament last night both home teams were defeated and one Spring Hill team came through with a victory.

Spring Hills' girls were edged 36 to 35 by Umpire in a thrilling contest which saw the losers Gallopway tally 23 points. Hill of Umpire got 19.

Nashville had little trouble in turning back the Saratoga girls by a 33 to 19 score. Harper of Nashville tallied 24 points and Saratoga's R. Webb got 11.

In the boys division Spring Hill defeated Fouke 42 to 36 with Garner, Landes and Kidd leading the way.

Saratoga's boys were no match for the Laneburg five which won 59 to 46. Carlton had 26 and Miller 15 for the winners. Chism tallied 14 while Frick and McDunkins got 10 each for the losers.

At 5:30 p.m. today the Emmet girls take on Kirby. This game is followed by the Genoa Central and Hope B boys at 6:30 p.m. At 7:45 p.m. the Blevins girls meet Garland and at 8:45 p.m. Garland takes on Mineral Springs.

Ex-Nazi Elite Guard to Trial

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—A former Nazi elite guard general who claims to have helped Luftwaffe chief Hermann Goering commit suicide in the Nuremberg jail went on trial today.

Ex-Gen. Erich von dem Bach-Zelewski, 61, is charged with killing Baron Anton von Hothberg Buchwald in 1934. The baron at that time was alleged to have had a part in the anti-fitter push of Stormtrooper boss Ernst H. Roehm.

Another former SS officer identified Von Dem Bach-Zelewski as his accomplice in the killing.

In 1951, he told an American prosecutor that he passed Goering the vial of poison Goering swallowed on the eve of his hanging. This part of Von Dem Bach-Zelewski's career is not scheduled to figure in the current trial.

Steel Probe Brings Word to Relax

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government task force assigned to study the steel industry's labor troubles came up today with one word of advice to the nation—relax.

The whole problem and its effects on the national economy are highly exaggerated, according to the surprising findings submitted by a staff headed by Prof. E. Robert Livernash of the Harvard Graduate School of Business.

Here are some of the task force's conclusions:

1. Actual adverse effects of steel strikes have not been of serious magnitude.
2. Neither have steel wage or price changes been serious in terms of the over-all economy, or in influencing other price and wage levels.

3. Little can be gained from changing the labor laws for dealing with national emergency strikes. Existing economic pressures are more effective persuaders. If the government has to get into a steel dispute, it should be on an informal basis at "truly critical stages."

4. Serious consideration should be given to advance arrangements so that in any future steel strike a few mills would be operated to insure enough steel for national defense needs.

The quicker everybody realizes how the steel labor problem has been exaggerated in the public mind, the study suggests, less attention will be paid the periodic steel labor bargaining, and probably fewer strikes will ensue.
